Information to Conflict Minerals

As an internationally active company, FEINMETALL attaches great importance to ensure that the values on morals, ethics and sustainability, set out in legal and internationally recognized standards, are observed and practiced throughout in the entire supply chain.

We also see it as our duty to consistently implement the provisions of the Dodd-Frank-Act.

For that reason, we cooperate closely with our suppliers in order to be able to trace the origin of the materials we use beyond doubt, right through to the extraction of the raw materials.

Based on the feedback received from our supply chain, we can confirm that the raw materials used for FEINMETALL products do not originate in the Democratic Republic of Congo or in any of the surrounding East African states Angola, Burundi, Rwanda, Zambia, Sudan, Tanzania, Uganda or of the Central African Republic.

Detailed information on conflict minerals is contained in our Conflict Minerals Reporting Template (CMRT) and the Extended Minerals Reporting Template (EMRT).

We will share these documents upon request to materialcompliance@feinmetall.de
